WF-RepTool 2.0: The WEEE Forum makes its reporting tool available to third parties

For some years now, producer compliance schemes in the WEEE Forum have been using WF-RepTool, a software tool that allows them and their suppliers to report recycling and recovery results and de-pollution of WEEE in accordance with the WEEELABEX standards. The group now goes one step further by making the tool directly available to recyclers.

In other words, for the first time, third parties, such as treatment companies, can choose to install the tool under their own administration to generate WF-RepTool reports, either for their own interests or for that of other clients. For example, he might choose to provide a report to a WEEE compliance scheme by downloading his report.

The WF-RepTool website provides all information about the reporting platform: FAQs, the manuals, relevant WF-RepTool presentations...

The use of the licenses is open to compliance schemes as well as to 'small' and 'big' operators and others. See the WEEE Forum's pricing policy.
